Florida Wildflower Cooperative

The Wildflower Plant and Seed Growers Association is a marketing cooperative designed to market and sell Florida wildflower seed. Formed in the spring of 2003 with eight members, the Wildflower Plant and Seed Growers Association, more commonly known as the Florida Wildflower Cooperative, continues to grow.

How to Become a Member

The Florida Wildflower Cooperative offers three different types of membership: Member Grower, Associate Grower and Ex-officio or Advisor member. All growers are required to grow certified Florida seed. This seed must have originated in the state of Florida. This certification process is done through the Southern Seed Certification Agency.

► Member Grower

Each Member Grower may serve on the board of directors and/or as an association officer as well as vote on association business.

- Purchase 500 shares of stock in the association for $500
- Have a minimum of one acre in production
- Produce 25 pounds of wildflower seed per year for sale through the association within the first 4 years of membership
- Sell 80% of their seed through the association

► Associate Grower

The Associate Grower membership is offered for the grower who has not yet met the Member Grower requirements but is interested in producing and selling wildflower seed through the association. The Associate Grower does not vote on association business.

- One time membership fee of $100 that may be credited toward the Member Grower membership

► Ex-Officio Member (Advisor)

If you are not a wildflower grower, but want to be a part of this dynamic group, you may join as an advisor/patron. For a minimum $100 donation, you will be helping to preserve native wildflowers throughout the state.
